UNION SHOE FACTORY.

Prospect that Work Will be Resumed in Few Weeks.

There is fair prospect that the Union shoe factory will be started up again in a few weeks. Arrangements have been made with Boston men who will become interested in the factory and look after the selling end. Details have been agreed upon, and it only remains to draw up and sign the necessary papers.

The Boston men who will become interested are J. A. Blake and A. M. Redman, both well known in the shoe trade and with an established business. They will meet the Ellsworth men half way in financing the company which will be formed to operate the factory, and will look after the selling end.

Messrs. Blake and Redman were in Ellsworth Friday and Saturday last. They looked over the plant, talked with the Ellsworth men interested in the company, and got down to business at once. They expressed themselves as satisfied with conditions here, and that the shoe market warranted the starting of the factory.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Union shoe factory will be held Friday. The building will be extensively repaired.

COSTLY MOOSE MEAT.

Men Who Shot Cow Moose at South Gouldsboro Convicted.

George J. and Fred Reading, of Gouldsboro Point, were arrested Friday by Game Warden George U. Dyer, of Franklin, on warrants charging them with the shooting of a cow moose at South Gouldsboro, which was briefly reported in THE AMERICAN last week.

Game Warden Dyer, who was notified of the shooting late in the afternoon of the day it occurred, acted promptly and effectively. He drove at once to Gouldsboro Point, arriving there about midnight. He soon had evidence which fixed his suspicion on the Reading brothers, and following up the lead, obtained evidence which seemed to him to warrant their arrest.

Saturday morning Fred Reading, the younger brother, confessed to the killing of the moose, and when arraigned in the Bar Harbor municipal court, both pleaded guilty. They were fined $100 each and costs, which amount to $38.85.

George was committed to the county jail at Ellsworth in default of fine, and was brought to Ellsworth by Warden Dyer Saturday afternoon. Fred Reading was released on his own recognizance on condition that he pay the fine by Tuesday.

Death of Emery B. Dunbar.

Mr. Dunbar was a native of Sullivan, and all his life had been spent here. In company with his brother Harvey, in 1881 he established the business which has grown to its present extensive proportions. The company now operates the quarries here, lumber mill at Gouldsboro, and conducts a general store.

The deceased was one of the most influential and public-spirited men in Sullivan, and none occupied a higher place in the esteem of his fellow townsmen. He had served his town as selectman. He was president of the Sullivan Harbor Water Co.

He leaves a wife and one daughter, Miss Marie Dunbar, an aged mother, two brothers, Harvey and Charles W. Dunbar, and a sister, Miss Katharine Dunbar. Funeral services were held at the church this afternoon, Rev. O. G. Barnard officiating.

DROWNED AT LOWER DAM.

Nine-Year-Old Harold Garland loses Life—Body Not Yet Found.

Harold, the nine-year-old son of Gerry Garland, was drowned in the river at the lower dam just before noon today. A boat in which he, with Colin Jordan, was playing, was carried through the dam. Jordan succeeded in reaching shore, but the little Garland boy was caught in the swift current below the dam. He was seen once or twice below the dam before he finally disappeared.

The two boys, with three others, were playing in a flat-bottomed boat or scow some distance above the dam. The five boys had been across the river, and had returned to the east shore. Three of the boys had stepped from the boat, and in doing so shoved the boat out into the stream. There were rough paddles in the boat, but the boys were unable to prevent the unwieldy craft from being drawn toward the dam.

The east wing of the dam, which was carried away some time ago, has not been rebuilt, and the water tumbles down over the rocks in a white rapid.

Through this the boat was drawn, being turned over and over in the descent. Both boys were thrown out and separated. Jordan succeeded in reaching the west bank of the river below the reduction works. The Garland boy rose to the surface once or twice in the deep water below the dam. He apparently was not struggling, and it is probable he was injured by the rocks over which he was carried.

Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon the body had not been recovered.

Gerry Garland, the father, is away from home, being at Aurora on a business trip. A messenger was despatched for him at once. The boy's mother is prostrated with grief. They have one other son, Shirley, aged twelve years.

BURRELL VS. WHITCOMB.

Decision of Supreme Court Reversed by the Law Court.

The decision in the case of Burrell vs. Whitcomb has been handed down from the law court. It reverses the decision of the supreme court, which gave judgment for defendant.

This case was tried at the last October term of the supreme court in Hancock county, Judge Powers presiding. The action was brought by C. C. Burrell against H. F. Whitcomb, who, as sheriff, acting for another creditor, seized several chests of tea from a store on which plaintiff had a blanket mortgage which he claimed covered not only goods in stock when the mortgage was made, but stock added later.

The receipt from the law court, which is by Justice Whitehouse, follows:

A mortgage of chattels including all stock in trade, furniture and fixtures that may thereafter be acquired, contained the further provision that the mortgagee should have the right to take possession of the mortgaged property and of any additions that might be made thereto, whenever he should deem it for his interest so to do.

In this case, the plaintiff as mortgagee, took possession of the mortgaged property including the after acquired stock in question for the purpose of enforcing his rights under the mortgage, and sought to retain possession of it as against an attaching creditor.

There was no act of delivery of such after acquired stock on the part of the mortgagor at any time after it was purchased by him and possession of it was taken by the mortgagee without any other consent of the mortgagor than that contained in the agreement found in the mortgage.

The presiding judge ruled as a matter of law, that "the mortgage of future acquired chattels was void against an attaching creditor without some new act on the part of the mortgagor and that possession taken without the consent of the mortgagor and retained by the mortgagee before and until the attachment, was not sufficient to make the mortgage good." The case comes to this court on exceptions to this ruling.

The respective rights of mortgagee and attaching creditors or other third parties in regard to after acquired property claimed under chattel mortgages upon facts analogous to those at bar, have frequently received the attention of this court, and other dicta may be found and some early authorities are cited in several Maine cases tending to support the defendant's position; and on the other hand, recent decisions from other states have been cited with approval tending to support the plaintiff's contention; but the precise question now presented does not appear to have been necessarily involved and directly determined in any reported case in this state.

It has often been decided, however, in other jurisdictions by courts of great respectability and high authority, and this court is now at liberty to adopt the view which is most in accord with the principles of equity and sound reason and at the same time best supported by the weight of judicial opinion in other American states.

It is a well settled principle in equity requiring no citation of authorities in its support that an agreement to give security upon property not yet in existence or in the ownership of the party making the contract, or property to be acquired by him in the future, although, with the exception of chattels having "potential existence" it creates no legal estate in the things when they afterwards come into existence or are acquired by the promisor, does constitute an equitable lien upon the property so existing or acquired at a subsequent time, which is enforced in the same manner and against the same parties as a lien upon specific things existing and owned by the contracting party at the date of the contract.

In recent years, the court has shown a strong tendency to reject the narrow interpretation of the common law rule found in some of the earlier decisions, and a readiness to adopt a more reasonable and equitable doctrine which simply requires the mortgagee to observe the obligation of his express agreement in the mortgage. The common law dogma which is said to require some new act on the part of the mortgagor to protect the mortgagee's lien, appears to have been founded mainly upon one of Lord Bacon's Latin maxims which declares that "though the grant of a future interest is invalid yet a declaration may be made which will take effect on the intervention of some new act—interventu novo actu."

As one of the first instances stated by Lord Bacon to illustrate the maxim had reference to a "new act" on the part of a grantor, it appears to have been assumed by some of the courts that no other act would suffice to effectuate the prior agreement. But such a restricted meaning was not required by the text of the maxim, and it was explicitly repudiated in subsequent cases.

It is uniformly conceded that if the mortgagee takes possession of after-acquired property, in accordance with an express agreement in the mortgage, with the consent of the mortgagor given after he acquired title, it will be sufficient to perfect the mortgagee's lien. But a stipulation in the mortgage authorizing the mortgagee to take possession at any time, is not a mere license revocable at the pleasure of the mortgagor, but a valid and binding contract which contains in force until performed.

It is therefore difficult to understand upon what principle of justice or conception of common right, a mortgagee can be permitted to defeat the acknowledged equitable rights of the mortgagee by simply withholding his consent in violation of his express stipulation in the mortgage. According to this doctrine, if the mortgagee seeks to exercise his right to take possession of the property under the mortgage, and the mortgagor gives an express assent, not required by the terms of the mortgage, the mortgagee's equitable rights are preserved.

On the other hand, if the mortgagor objects, in violation of his agreement or stands mute, the mortgagee's possession, though expressly authorized by the contract of the parties, will not suffice and his rights are lost. Such a rule cannot be founded on principles of right and justice.

And it will be seen that such a rule has no stronger support in authority than it has in reason and equity.

But it is suggested that by Sec. 1 of Chap. 98, R. S., "No mortgage of personal property is valid against any other person than the parties thereto unless possession of such property is delivered to and retained by the mortgagee, or the mortgage is recorded, etc."

In this case it has been seen the mortgage was duly recorded, and possession of the good therein described, including the after-acquired property, was rightfully taken and retained by the mortgagee by virtue of the consent of the mortgagor previously granted in the stipulation of the mortgage. It is universally conceded, as before stated, that possession taken by the mortgagee, by virtue of the mortgagor's consent given after the property is acquired, is to be deemed equivalent to a voluntary delivery by the mortgagor, and such a "new act" as will effectuate the previous agreement.

It appears from the uniform current of modern decisions that the law has advanced another step, and holds, that actual possession of such property taken by the mortgagee in the exercise of an authority expressly granted in the mortgage, is also equivalent to a voluntary delivery by the mortgagor, and if such possession is retained, it makes good the mortgagee's lien as against an attaching creditor. Statutory provisions for the registration of chattel mortgages in effect precisely like our own, existed in all the states from which the foregoing decisions have been cited, but in no case directly involving the questions now before the court, have they been held to be in conflict with the equitable doctrine above stated.

Nor is it apparent that such a contract respecting after-acquired property is in contravention of any established rules of public policy. Indeed it would seem to be more in obedience to the principles of sound morality and considerations of public duty to sanction the act of the mortgagee in taking and holding the property in accordance with the express terms of the contract, rather than the act of the mortgagor or an attaching creditor in taking it away from him in violation of the agreement. It is accordingly the opinion of the court that the action is maintainable and that the entry must be exceptions sustained.

KITTELY TO CARIBOU.

The monitor Putnam has been ordered to Eastport for the Fourth of July celebration.

Patent has been granted to Frank Gutman, of Lewiston, for a discharge for wood-driers.

The steam saw mill of E. S. Stetson & Co., at Lincoln, was burned last Friday night. Loss $7,500.

Capt. William E. Bogart, of Hampden, a retired deep-sea sailor, died Saturday, aged seventy-two years.

George Battson, of Campobello, aged fifty-six years, a retired fish merchant, committed suicide by hanging Saturday.

The Maine Press association will have its annual excursion this year to the Rangeley lakes, the week beginning Monday, July 16.

The International paper company has awarded the contract for the construction of a pulp mill at Livermore Falls, to cost about $300,000.

The schooner Rattler, of Eastport, bound from St. John, N. B., to Lubec with salt, ran ashore at Todd's Head near Eastport, Sunday, and will probably be a total loss.

Gov. Cobb on Friday appointed Benjamin F. Kilby, of Eastport, as register of deeds for Washington county, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of State Highway Commissioner Paul D. Sargent.

At the annual meeting of the board of overseers of Bowdoin college Judge Clarence Hale, class of 1889, of Portland, and Prof. Alfred E. Burton, dean of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were elected members.

Dr. James W. North, of Augusta, died Sunday, aged sixty-seven years. Dr. North's ancestors were among the original settlers of Augusta, and his father, the late James W. North, was mayor of the city in 1857, 1858, 1859, 1860 and again in 1874.

Elmer Keyes, of Bangor, shot and killed his wife, Isabelle Keyes, aged thirty-two, Sunday night. He then turned the revolver on himself, inflicting a serious wound.

Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy. Mrs. Keyes was the daughter of John Neil and wife, of Bangor. She married Keyes twelve years ago. They have two daughters, aged eleven and four years.

The board of State normal school trustees met at Portland Friday for the purpose of electing the teachers for the various schools. The only change announced was at the Gorham normal school, of which Prof. W. E. Russell was elected principal. W. J. Corthell, the venerable principal of the school, some time ago announced his desire of being relieved of the duties owing to his seventy-three years of age. Prof. Russell had been Mr. Corthell's assistant for a number of terms.

Holman S. Melcher, an ex-mayor of Portland, and for thirty-six years engaged in the wholesale grocery business in that city, died Sunday, aged sixty-four years. He was mustered into the 20th Maine at the opening of the Civil war as a corporal, and was soon appointed first lieutenant of Co. F. and later captain. He was promoted major April 9, 1865. He served in both branches of the city council in 1889 and 1890. He was registrar of the Maine Commandery of the Loyal Legion, was a member of the G. A. R. and masonic bodies, and vice-president of the board of trade. He served one term in the legislature in 1898.

The stockholders of the Eastern Timber Co. and the Publishers Paper Co. met in Portland last week, when the two companies were merged into one, under the name of the Publishers Paper Co. The bond issue of $2,500,000 was approved. The directors are: Victor F. Lawson, Frank B. Noyes and Augustus S. Peabody, of Chicago, Robert B. VanCourtland, Oakleigh Thorne, H. B. Hollins, Benjamin F. Yoakum, William A. Hall, James R. Burnet, Homer B. Parsons and J. F. Ackerman, of New York, and George B. James, of Boston. Construction work at Portsmouth and at water powers along the Saco river will now be pushed. The company has contracts with publishers for $1,000,000 worth of paper a year for twenty years, beginning on the completion of the mill.

A Scranton, Pa., newspaper recently claimed that Scranton is the home of the oldest twins in the United States, if not in the world. They are John and Mary Cooke, born March 12, 1826. The State of Maine, however, can beat this record. Daniel F. Gardner and Hannah F. (Gardner) Parker, born January 25, 1825, at East Machias, are still hale and hearty. Mrs. Parker is the wife of John W. Parker, of Portland, active, energetic, able to do all her own housework and still young at heart. Her brother Daniel, although a resident of East Machias nearly all his life, moved to Augusta, after the death of his wife in 1896, and makes his home with his children, three daughters having married Augusta lawyers: Hon. H. M. Heath, Charles L. Andrews and Orrin A. Tuell. He is as erect in figure, rugged in health, and carries himself as sturdily, in spite of his eighty years, as most men of forty.

Review of the Week.

The Ellsworth markets are dull, with few price changes. Butter is almost a drug on the market, at 18 to 22 cents retail. Eggs remain firm at 20 to 22.

In vegetables, the only material change in price is in new potatoes, which drop to 25 cents a peck, and will soon be crowding old potatoes out of the market.

In fruits, watermelon and cantaloupe are the latest arrivals. Strawberry growers have been hit hard by the cold, wet weather, and as the season moves this way, prices which ordinarily drop, hold at 15 to 18 cents, while the quality of berries is not up to the average.

Provisions, fish and grain show no changes from last week.

Collection of Liquor Debts.

A decision by Chief-Justice Andrew J. Wiswell in the action of H. F. Corbin and others vs. Peter F. Houlehan rules that chapter 20, section 65 of the Revised Statutes of Maine, which prohibits the maintenance of an action in the courts of this State to recover for intoxicating liquors bought in another state with intent to sell the same in this State, is not in violation of the federal constitution, which gives Congress the power to regulate the commerce between states.

The receipt states that it is a fundamental and elementary rule of the common law that the courts will not enforce an illegal contract which is contrary to public policy or which is in contravention of the state independent of any statute in relation to the same; no court would enforce a contract in behalf of a vendor to recover the purchase price of goods sold if the vendor had knowledge that the vendee was to sell them in another state for illegal purposes.

The question raised was as to the constitutionality of the statute in question, which does not make participation by the vendor in the purchases illegal purpose or even his knowledge of such purpose necessary to prevent his resorting to our courts.

New President of E. M. C. S.

The trustees of the East Maine conference seminary, Bucksport, at their meeting in Bangor last Friday, elected Frederick E. Bragdon, of Saylesville, R. I., president of the seminary to succeed Rev. S. A. Bender, resigned.

Mr. Bragdon was a dark horse in the race, the contest up to within a few days of the election being between James Brooks, of Bangor, and E. A. Cooper, of Bucksport. Mr. Brooks withdrew from the contest when Mr. Bragdon's name was presented. Mr. Bragdon received sixteen votes and Mr. Cooper seven.

Mr. Bragdon was born in Brewer thirty-five years ago. He graduated from Wesleyan university in 1891 with degree of A. B., and from Brown university in 1895 with degree of A. M. He has been teaching in public and high schools in New Jersey and Rhode Island several years, and has been superintendent of schools at Saylesville five years.

Mr. Edison's Watch.

"To Mr. Edison, time is so valuable that he does not waste it even by taking 'account of it,'" says a writer in World's Work. "Time to him is only the chance to get things done; and no matter how long it takes, they must be done."

"In his office safe there is carefully locked away a $2,700 Swiss watch, given him by a European scientific society. It is never used. He buys a stem-winder costing a dollar and a half, breaks the chain ring off, squirts oil under the cap of the stem, thrusts it into his trousers pocket—and never looks at it. When it gets too clogged with dirt to run, he lays it on a laboratory table, hits it with a hammer and buys another."

It's the Ammonia

It's the ammonia in MILLER'S POWERINE

that makes it a powerful dissolvent of grease and dirt. The common household ammonia, in bottles, may have some strength left by the time it reaches your kitchen, but sometimes it does not! In Miller's Powerine, pure ammonia, is locked up tight in every granule of the soap—when sprinkled in the water you get the full strength immediately—the cleaning power is all there! Its quick action on dirt and grease makes it possible to accomplish much work in a very short time. Restores the original brightness to everything. You don't have to rub or scrub. Miller's Powerine, with ammonia, does the work. Large package 5c.

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 1905.

The clatter of machinery in the shoe factory will prime Ellsworth ears for the noise of dam building, the hum of the cotton yarn spindles and the noise of the builders on the new high school building.

It is pleasant news to the people of Ellsworth that there is every prospect of the resumption of operations at the Union shoe factory. Negotiations between Ellsworth and Boston men have passed the point of preliminaries—it only remains to draw up and sign the necessary papers, and so far as can be seen no complications are likely to arise. The starting up of the factory will in itself give a distinctly better tone to the business atmosphere of Ellsworth, and in this way aid in the consummation of other projects.

President Roosevelt, not content with having instituted negotiations which promise to bring about peace between Russia and Japan, is now trying diligently to arrange an armistice between the opposing armies. Of course the subject, partaking as it does of a military character, is a most delicate one, and the President could not urge the arrangement on either power unless he were in a position to offer some guarantee with regard to the attitude of the other, which he cannot do. He is, nevertheless, presenting in the strongest possible light the humane side of the proposition, and the pity if more lives should be lost at a time when permanent peace seems to be in sight. At present there seems to be little likelihood that the President's humane efforts will prove successful because of the insistence by Japan that she cannot risk a loss of the strategic advantages she now enjoys in Manchuria without some more definite and frank indication from Russia that she desires peace. Russia, on the other hand, pursuing her time honored policy of avoiding every semblance of frankness in her diplomacy, positively refuses to commit herself.

The "Knox Idea".

The Knox county democrat, headed by Dr. George L. Crockett, "the silver-tongued orator of the Androscoggin," in the search for a State political issue, have hit up an idea. They will take the bit in their teeth, and try to drag the democracy of Maine along with them under the banner of the "Knox idea". The Knox idea, for boldness of conception, knocks any other idea the Maine democracy ever had higher than a cocked hat. It involves not only re-submission of the liquor question, but distilleries and breweries for Maine as well. Dr. Crockett, in talking of the Knox idea, incidentally made a candid admission. He said: "For many years the democratic party of Maine has been hanging on the ragged edge of nothing. It had no issue, no courage and consequently but small following." Here is the Knox idea as outlined by Dr. Crockett:

"The State must have its own distillery and brewery."
"This will also imply a stringent license law and the compulsory purchase of all liquors from the State plants."
"The profits accruing from these plants shall be used to support the common schools."

If the democrats of Maine adopt the Knox idea, their slogan in the next State campaign well may be "Maine run for Maine people!"

Health and cheerfulness mutually beget each other.—Joseph Addison.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

A dark horse won that race for presidency of Backport "sen" after all.

Our West Franklin correspondent tells of a grocery clerk who had trouble in keeping sugar. He salted it, and now keeps it all right; nobody else wants it.

The men who shot that cow moose at South Gouldsboro reckoned without Game Warden George U. Dyer, of Franklin. When Warden Dyer gets after an offender of the game laws, he means business.

Here's a record hard to beat! Lena Maddox, who graduated from Bluehill grammar school this last week, has attended twenty-six terms of school and never been absent a half day. She began going to school at the age of five years.

Hancock county was well represented in the graduating class at Wellesley college this year. There were three Hancock county girls in the class—Misses Gertrude Lewis and Mary Cleaves Richardson, of Castine, and Miss Harriet Rodina, of Ellsworth.

That Backport-built pole-hauling ship Roosevelt had a trial trip off Portland harbor last week. Besides a general perfection in the running of the machinery and sailing of the vessel, the speed developed was greater than was expected, about twelve knots being maintained. The Roosevelt will start for the north pole about July 19.

The departure of the squadron of battleships for France to escort home in fitting dignity the body of John Paul Jones, recalls the fact that in the old burying ground back of the little white church at Manet, lies the body of one Jonathan Brown, who served in the navy under John Paul Jones. The grave is unmarked, but the D. A. R. are making efforts to have at least a tombstone mark his resting-place.

Here's another smart Hancock county cat—not a record-breaker for weight, but a big one, nevertheless. He is named "Eto", after a Japanese nobleman. His weight is fifteen pounds. He is peculiarly and handsomely marked, being snow white, except for three dark yellow spots on his back and a yellow tail. He is owned by Marion Veazie, of Castine, and is devoted to his mistress, following her about the farm like a dog.

Backport is seeing visions of blue coats and big guns. All because of a rumor that there is to be something doing at Fort Knox in the way of replacing the armament with modern weapons, and the stationing there of a garrison. Not the least interested are the girls. Their interest is not in the big guns, but in cupid's arrows. They haven't forgotten the boys of the Fort Knox garrison of the Spanish war times, several of whom struck their colors to Hancock county girls.

WEDDING BELLS.

SWETT-FISHER.

A wedding in which Ellsworth is interested took place at the Free Street Baptist church, Portland, at 3 o'clock last Thursday afternoon. The bride was Miss Ethel Frances Swett, daughter of Mrs. Eunice Swett, formerly of Ellsworth, and the groom was Earl Augustus Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fisher, of Astoria, Ore. The decorations in the church were ferns and wild flowers. Rev. E. P. Wilson was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Fred K. Swett, was gown in white ecru, with lace trimmings; her veil was worn off the face and her bouquet was a shower of sweet peas. The maid-of-honor was Miss Grace Clark, cousin of the bride, who was gown in white over green silk and carried a bouquet of lavender sweet peas.

There were four bridesmaids, Miss Mina Thomas and Miss Laura Wilbur, of Portland, Miss Margaret Dresser, of Ellsworth, and Miss Mazie Elden, of Bangor, all of whom wore white over pink and carried bouquets of pink sweet peas. They all wore white picture hats with plumes, as did the maid-of-honor.

Dr. Walter Foster was best man, and the ushers were George Parcher and Frank Rowe, of Ellsworth, Frank Bradford and Henry Mann.

An extremely pretty feature of the wedding was the presence of the members of the Zeta Phi society, of which the bride was a member, who were all gown in white and wore garlands of daisies on their heads. Miss Ina Barbour and Miss Winifred Briggs carried arm bouquets of daisies; Miss Lena Adams, Miss Hope Nickerson, Miss Elsie Tolman, Miss Marjorie Chandler, Miss Maude Hart, Miss Mabel Steadman, Miss Mabel Morse and Miss Bertha Lang carried daisy garlands.

A reception followed the ceremony at the summer home of the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Dewey, at the Cape. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher received, assisted by Mrs. Swett, who was gown in black with trimmings of lace and jet, and Mrs. Fisher, who wore light tan silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left on a short wedding trip. Mrs. Fisher travelled in gray, with hat to match. They will be at home after September first, but before going West they will return to Portland for a short stay.

The bride's gifts to her maid of honor and attendants were signet rings with her and their initials. The groom gave his best man and ushers scarf pins.

Among the Ellsworth guests present beside those already mentioned were Miss Helen Adams and Miss Annie Kingsbury. The many Ellsworth friends of the bride extend congratulations.

RALPH-WILLIAMS.

Miss Ella B. Ralph, of Ellsworth, and John C. Williams, of Portland, were married quietly at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. E. Springer, in Ellsworth, Sunday afternoon. Rev. P. A. A. Killian, of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony, using the ring service. Only a few immediate relatives were present.

The bride has been a successful teacher in the public schools of Phillips. The groom is assistant superintendent of the passenger department of the Maine Central railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on the Sunday afternoon train for Portland, where they will reside.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by conducting sound directly to the diseased part of the ear. When this tube is indicated, you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

Another Maine Murder.

Mrs. Annie Bishop, of Rockland, aged forty-five years, was found dead at the home of James Maloney at South Thomaston, yesterday afternoon, under circumstances which admit of no doubt that she was murdered.

John Maloney, son of James, is under arrest on suspicion, and his father is held as a witness. The murder evidently grew out of a drunken carousal.

"Quick lunch" is one of the commonest of city sins. The sign doesn't say "a healthy lunch of good food"—the character of the food served is not considered. It's just a quick lunch—eat and get away. Is it any wonder that the stomach breaks down? Food is digested at 12-steps, indigestible and harmful, thus food, very often, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Normally there should be no need for medical assistance for the stomach. For the average method of life is abnormal, and will take countless years to bring a demand for Dr. F. J. Cheney's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the only medicine which can be relied on to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not a cure-all. It is a medicine designed for the stomach and to cure through the stomach remote diseases which have their cause in the derangement of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It cures when all else fails.

There is satisfaction in money-spending when the article bought bears the stamp of honesty. To have our customers feel that this is a thoroughly reliable store, to have them feel that the goods are reliable and the prices just, has been our ambition. The addresses were interesting, and the entire session could not fail to be a help and an inspiration to those who attended the various meetings. Mrs. Herrick's Sunday school class No. 5, which was the flower committee, thank Miss Maria Wood for her generous contribution of flowers.

WEDDING BELLS.

The home of S. P. Snowman and wife was the scene of a very pretty wedding on June 14, when their daughter, Lula Belle, was united in marriage to Everett Wheelock Hinekey. The parlor, hall and dining-room were handsomely decorated with evergreens.

To the music of the Mendelssohn wedding march played by Mrs. Mayo, the bride passed into the parlor on the arm of her father, where she was met by the groom attended by his brother Carl as best man. The bridesmaids were Margaret Hinekey and Ethel Adams, of Lowell; the maid of honor, Eva Snowman; ring bearer, little Edith Hinekey.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. L. Olds, the ring service being used. There was soft music during the ceremony and while greetings, good wishes and congratulations were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hinekey. Delicious refreshments were served by Ethel and Caroline Snowman, nieces of the bride.

About thirty-five of the relatives of both families were present. The bride was gowned in white liberty silk with pearl and lace trimmings. She carried a bouquet of white lilies. The maid of honor wore white muslin as did Margaret Hinekey, bridesmaid. The other bridesmaid, Miss Adams, wore pale blue mousseline de soie with white chiffon trimmings. The brides travelling gown was brown tulle and hat of brown chiffon.

Showered with confetti, Mr. and Mrs. Hinekey left immediately after the wedding on a short trip. They have returned to complete a few plans before going to Northfield, Vt., where they will reside, Mr. Hinekey having been employed there for the last three years. For the last six years Mrs. Hinekey has been in the employ of A. G. Pollard & Co. Lowell, Mass.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many very handsome and valuable presents, showing the esteem in which they are held by friends in Lowell, Boston, Somerville and Bluehill. The good wishes of many friends go with Mr. and Mrs. Hinekey to their new home. May the happy wedding hour so rich in springtime beauty, so perfect in the blending hues of sea and sky, be the foretokening of a life-journey long to be enjoyed by them.

Clarence Emery, who has been one of the mainstays of the union since it was organized and who will be greatly missed, though his new charge at St. George is not so far away as to prevent occasional attendance.

The Congregational sewing circle met last Wednesday with the shut-in member, Mrs. Hannah Gilley. A picnic lunch relieved the heat of the day at that point, and proved enjoyable to all. Mrs. Gilley, though unimpaired in general health, cannot yet take a step without crutches, and can only get into her garden and occasionally to church in a wheel chair. She equals Job in patience, or really is superior to him, as she bears her trials uncomplainingly.

THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

Features of Management That Make for Success.

The State board of agriculture recently sent out questioners as to how an agricultural fair should be conducted. Some of the answers are printed in the June bulletin. The answers from Hancock county were as follows:

BLUEHILL.—Offer liberal premiums and pay them promptly. This will encourage farmers to bring their stock and produce and that will go a long way toward making a fair. Aim to have a clean fair from start to finish. Have all the fairs you can but do not have anything indecent, and when people come find it out you will get them to come. I would add all the attractions that the society can afford, such as horse trotting, ball games, brass band, merry-go-round, ox pulling, foot races, bicycle races, etc.

HANCOCK CO. AGRICULTURAL SO.

PENOBSCOT.—I would take some of the larger premiums on horses and divide among other exhibits, letting some of it go to the dairy and fruit and vegetables. Give a small premium for every variety that is worthy of a premium, and have every variety marked true to name, and put men on for committees that know the different kinds and who will do their duty without fear or favor.

SEBOWICK.—The fair should be managed in a more honest way than some of them are. I do not think any favors should be shown. What it is not better to offer more premium on what a farmer can raise on his farm, including stock, and leave out some show-houses? The judging should be done by men with no favors to give anyone.

Stops Any Itching.

Doan's Ointment Cures Eczema and Itching Piles.

Ellsworth testimony proves it:

C. E. Sinclair, blacksmith, living on Main St., near the edge of town, Ellsworth, Me., says: "I suffered for years from an irritation which a number of ointments and remedies failed to cure. I have been in misery when engaged in my business and the irritation fairly tortured me. I learned of Doan's Ointment and procured it at E. G. Moore's drug store. It not only benefited me, as I had hoped, but it cured me, and I can recommend it without hesitation to any person suffering from eczema, hemorrhoids, burns or anything for which an ointment is required."

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick. Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today.

Each year, finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is not a physic. Peruna is not a nerve nor a narcotic. Peruna does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peruna is not a stimulant.

Peruna is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files bushels of testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are doing a great work for humanity.

These children brought up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

Mrs. Thresa Rooke, 238 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Maccabees, writes:

"In our home Peruna is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and child, all have used Peruna. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me. We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him."

"If the baby has colic, or any stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her. I consider Peruna finer than any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried, and I know that as long as we have it in the house, we will all be able to keep in good health."—Thresa Rooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctor with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Sailer, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I have used Peruna for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered with from infancy."

"When my three children were born they all had catarrh, but I have given them Peruna and find it very effective in ridding them of this horrible trouble. I find that it is also good to give them as a tonic and a preventative of colds and colic."

"In fact, I consider it a household blessing. I would not know how to raise my children without it. I am pleased to give it my recommendation."—Amelia Sailer.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart-beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DEATH OF MRS. LEWIS KING.

Again is our community saddened by the loss of one of its highly-esteemed citizens. Adelaide, wife of Lewis King, died Tuesday morning, June 27.

Mrs. King was the daughter of Martin and Mary Bunker, of this town, and she had lived here the most of her life. She was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Downs. Some years after his death she was married to Lewis King, of this town, who survives her. One son died in infancy; the other, Elwood King, lives here, and spent many hours with his mother during her illness. A son of Mr. King by a former marriage, John L. King, also found a mother in her.

Mrs. King was a woman of more than ordinary activity, and physical strength, until a few years ago, when she suffered from an attack of bronchitis. This was followed by another about two years ago, from which she never fully recovered, and which made an easy foothold for consumption.

The deceased was a member of the Baptist church, and was constant in her attendance upon its services until home cares and failing health prevented. For many years she was a faithful teacher in the Sunday school.

As a wife and mother she was most devoted, and possessed in a marked degree the characteristics of a typical New England housewife. Yet, unlike many, she was not so confined to home that she had no time to manifest a true neighborly spirit, and, since her illness, many expressions of appreciation have been heard in regard to her neighborly qualities.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, Rev. Thomas McDonald officiating. Mrs. King is survived by her husband, who is in a feeble condition, the two sons mentioned above, also by two sisters, Mrs. Nathan Boynton, of this town, and Mrs. Sarah Webber, of Connecticut, and by three brothers, James Bunker, of Webster City, Iowa, and Martin and Edgar, also living in the West.
